

BIOGRAPHY | STUART FRISCH

Stuart Frisch is the Regional Security Director for the Secure Community Network (SCN) based in Memphis, TN. In this role, Mr. Frisch serves at the local level as Director of Memphis Jewish Community Security, as well as at the regional and national levels as a member of the national SCN team.

In Memphis, his responsibilities include serving as the point person for all issues of security; making regular, frequent visits to Memphis Jewish organizations to assess security needs and make recommendations; providing security training and education; maintaining effective partnerships with local, state, and federal law enforcement and emergency management agencies; implementing an emergency communications system; monitoring intelligence related to terrorism and public safety, and; coordinating security for major events in the community.

Mr. Frisch has an extensive background as a security professional, with more than 20 years of experience planning, developing, and implementing diversified security programs across the military, corporate, and government sectors. He is a certified trainer through both the U.S. Department of Justice and U.S. Department of Homeland Security.

Prior to joining SCN, Mr. Frisch served as Coordinator of Security Operations for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, where he was responsible for creating security policy for a workforce of more than 5000 across 17 countries.

Mr. Frisch served with the Memphis Police Department, Office of Homeland Security for more than a decade, and previously served in a Special Operations capacity with the Israel Defense Forces.